FROM THE DESK OF THE RABBI

VOTE!

arch and April will offer so much to do, celebrate and commemorate at our Jewish Center. The Purim Carnival and Megillah reading, Kavod Awards, Women's and Community Seder (There's no Seder like our Seder) will be followed by remembering Yom Hashoah (holocaust memorial day) and celebrating Yom Ha-Atzmaut (Israel Independence Day) to name a few.

But this month I am asking you to join me in a moment in Jewish life that comes along only once every five years.

In this month's article I am asking you to vote. Not only am I asking you to vote, but also telling you who to vote for! Vote for Mercaz, Slate 6, in the World Zionist Congress.

Maybe you need a word of explanation. Here is it. You may not know it, but right now there is an election going on in the Jewish world that takes place only once every five years. It is the election in the World Zionist Congress. I am asking you to vote in this election, and to vote for Mercaz, the Zionist Organization of the Conservative/Masorti movement. (Slate 6)

The First Zionist Congress was called by Theodore Herzl and took place in 1897 in Basel Switzerland. The World Zionist Congress today is the way for everyone in the Jewish world to have a say in vital issues in Israel and the Jewish world. This body of 525 delegates makes major policy decisions and gives us a say in Israel and around the world. Twenty nine percent of the 525 delegates come from the United States and will include members of every denomination. This is why Mercaz needs us. This is why Mercaz needs you and your vote.

Mercaz, the Conservative movement in Israel and around the world, stands for the issues of Religious Pluralism, Women's Rights, funding of Conservative programs in Israel such as funding for congregations, Tali (conservative education), Noam (conservative youth groups) Shelichim (emissaries from Israel who represent Conservative values, for the Conservative movement in day schools and for college campus life) and more. The implications are real in terms of how much funding goes to these important issues and affects a budget of close to 1 billion dollars, with up to $3 million in Conservative programs. How those monies are allocated depends on our ability to have as many delegates as possible on the WZO. Our representation also gives the Conservative movement seats on Israel's national organizations, such as the Jewish Agency and Jewish National Fund and has real implications as to how these organizations view the needs of the Jewish community around the world.

Time is of the essence. Voting is open now but ends March 11th. VOTE TODAY.

Rabbi Nesson

UNITY.. A VISIT FROM THE ISLAMIC CENTER

On January 24, MJCBY, in partnership with the National Council of Jewish Women-West Morris Section, hosted a Friday evening with the Islamic Center of Morris County. It was an incredible night. Close to 120 people attended Friday evening services and then sat down together at Shabbat dinner to get to know each other as real people.

Our Muslim guests commented that they include many of the Psalms in their prayers, and the Hebrew and Arabic words sound very similar to each other. They were also surprised to see that we observe similar hand washing rituals, except that Jews pour water on our hands three times and Muslim do it five times. As we tore off pieces of challah for the Motzi, they exclaimed that we were truly breaking bread together.

The evening reciprocated for our visit to the Islamic Center in September. We have formed connections through Morristown Diversity Day, an annual event on the Morristown Green.

Thank you to Rabbi Nesson and Cantor Shana for leading us in services, Cantor Shana for preparing the feast, co-chairs Linda Kornreich and Susan Neigher, and a fantastic team of table hosts and greeters.

A full report of our activities together can be found on our website. www.ncjwwestmorris.org.

For more information about Diversity Day, contact Susan Neigher at sneigher@hotmail.com

FROM MENAHEL AVI

AVI IN 5TH GRADE

While it has been a long time since I was in 5th grade, I am fondly reflecting on those long gone days while circling in my mind in appreciating the stellar students we have here this year. I'm recalling the chorus of a song I wrote as a little 5th grader, "I'm walking in a circle, a never ending circle, waiting for it to end."

A supportive fan of the writing of my younger years was Rabbi David Panitz (Zecher Tzadik Livrakhah). Not only did he engage me in studying Torah, but he engaged me in studying ancient Greek philosophy. Sharing my song led to a discussion that led to him connecting me with Heraclitus, "You cannot step into the same river twice."

Stepping into that Heraclitian river then seemed to take me down a tributary to meeting President Reagan 8 years later. Those who were at our Honoring Presidents program last month know more of that special connection. Quite a circle I've traveled with Heraclitus thus far from R' Panitz to President Reagan to today.

Back when R' Panitz was introducing me to Heraclitus, he also introduced me to reading Torah for my first time. I particularly remember it being March 13 as I was rather focused on the next day, March 14 being Pi Day. Two of my favorite subjects even then were Philosophy and Math. Years later, in addition to earning my certification for teaching all general studies K-8 subjects, I earned High School specialized certification in both Philosophy and Math.

R' Panitz and I discussed how the same Torah portion on the same Shabbat circles back year after year, but I philosophically noted that the parashat was not the same each year - that the Torah was not the same book (or scroll) each year - that R' Panitz was not the same man each year - and even I would never be the same. Poignantly, more Heraclitus R' Panitz shared: "The only constant in life is change."

We circle through reading the Torah each year. What we read of the Torah on a particular Shabbat may seem like the same words read before, but the world around us is not the same world in which we lived a year or years before, and we are not the same people we were a year or years before. Thus, the Torah portion is new to us, it speaks to us differently, we hear it differently, we can glean different lessons from it, we can apply it to our lives differently. Still, as we journey around the circle, each of the infinite points that compose it, each year, are there to offer us valuable lessons, if we're ready to dig.

One valuable lesson I came to realize even back then was that not only is there great Philosophy in the Torah but there is great Math too. How fascinating that pi is actually in the Torah!

There are two places in the Torah (1-Kings 7:23 and 2-Chronicles 4:2) where King Solomon's making of his circular pool is mentioned - 10 cubits edge-to-edge (diameter) and 30 cubits around (circumference). That is not mathematically precise. C/D here = 3 is rounded correctly but is lacking precision. Could Solomon, who was so architecturally skilled to build The Temple, be so inaccurate with his pool measurements?

It is reasonable to think that he was just approximating to give a sense. The Torah often approximates. It is not a Math text and is not trying to be. When Torah tallies the census counts for the twelve tribes, for instance, populations were rounded to the nearest 50. Sometimes a point was to be made but precision was not considered to be needed.

Digging more deeply, though, as Torah often requires, pi can actually be found here rather precisely. The 10 cubits edge-to-edge line (diameter) mentioned in Kings and Chronicles is spelled kuf-vov-hey in the former and kuf-vov in the latter. The Gematria of the first is 111. The Gematria of the second is 106. Their ratio  $\approx$ 1.0472. Multiply that by the C/D value of 3, and we get  $\approx$ 3.1416 which is pi accurate to 4 decimals.

Digging and playing further, interesting it is to note that the Gematria of the first letters of the names of the 5 Books, (Bet for Beresheet, Shin for Shmot, Vav for Vayikra, Bet for Bamidbar, and Dalet for Devarim), is 314. Similarly, the Gematria for the name Shaddai for our almighty protector is 314. We could circle around the Torah more and more and find more and more gems of messages and meaning like the figs in a fig tree.

"The only constant in life is change," and I certainly have changed much since I was 10 years old writing/singing, "I'm walking in a circle, a never ending circle, waiting for it to end." Change affects us all, but how we deal with the inevitability that is change is certainly up to each of us. Many of you know that this year has been one of a great deal of change for me. Next month marks 1 year since I became a Jersey boy again after 30 years of being in California. This month marks 6 months since I became your Director of Education. Much change! I thank so many of you for being such a positive part of this change.

Wishing you all that is GOoD on Pi Day and every single day!

HELP FEED THE LESS FORTUNATE

The Community Soup Kitchen has a new name - Nourish.NJ. For 35 years, it's enriched our community with food, support, and friendship. We've served countless meals. Despite many changes over the years, one thing that's remained constant is its passion for what it does. While food will always be at the heart of what Nourish.NJ does, it wants its name to better reflect everything it's done.

Our SOUP-er volunteers for January were:

Judy and Miles Josephson, Ilisa, Peter and Sophia Ferrara, Kim Synolovski, Marcy Needle, Adam and Jacob Smith, Shelley Lanzkowsky, Carol Leiwant and Rita Fand.

The Social Action Committee is looking for new members. MJCBY prides itself on doing Tikkun Olam to benefit our community, and your suggestions will help us to expand our mission.

If interested, please e-mail Lou Bodian (Loub48@gmail.com) or Howard Buxbaum (howardbuxbaum@gmail.com). We look forward to your great ideas.

Rita Gotfried became an active member of Sisterhood shortly after joining MJCBY 30 years ago. Her interest in volunteering grew as she became more involved in Sisterhood. Rita has held a variety of leadership positions in Sisterhood, including Chair of Gemilut Hasadim, Financial Secretary and Co-President from 1999-2001. Rita then held various positions on the synagogue board after becoming a Director, including Treasurer, a VP and, finally, Co-President of the synagogue from 2008-2010. During that time, Rita also volunteered with Metrowest Federation serving in various leadership roles. Rita is honored to receive the Eishet Chayil award and is excited to be sharing this day with Flo Sager, whom she has known since her early years at MJCBY. Rita and her husband, Larry, have two daughters, Jessica and Allison, both of whom celebrated their B'nai Mitzvah at MJCBY.

Flo and her family joined MJCBY in 1969. It wasn't long after that she joined Sisterhood. Flo served as Financial Secretary for many years. In the mid 1970's thru the 80's, she became involved in the religious school, as that's where her children were going. Flo was President of PTA, and later co-chair of the Board of Education with her husband Joe. In the late 90's she was the Librarian in what was then a wonderful functioning Library started by Fran & Herman Tillinger. Soon after, Flo started working as the secretary for Sandy Bernoff, then the Director of Education. That was about 19 years ago. You can still find Flo smiling & welcoming our religious school students on Sunday mornings & Wednesday afternoons. Today she enjoys selling raffles & helping with our very successful Mah Jong tournaments. Flo would like to thank Sisterhood for this wonderful honor and congratulates co-honoree, Rita Gotfried. She has made many friendships through the years which has enriched her life. Flo hopes to be part of our community for many years to come.
